

Delicious Ironies: Aerosmith plays the Revel Casino during Global Warming Tour!

Briavel Holcomb (Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy)

In November, 2012, the popular band Aerosmith will play at the Revel Casino in Atlantic City as part of their Global Warming Tour. The Revel, Atlantic City's newest casino, is located on the boardwalk within horizontal yards of the ocean and a few feet above sea level. It cost $3.2 billion and was given various state and local subsidies. Why are our tax dollars funding a structure so vulnerable to rising sea level and increased storm intensity?
